Problem: (42)

Problem: (43)
This is the vital point.

Problem: (43)
Good move, this makes White's eyespace as small as possible.

Problem: (43)
Correct. If White plays A, Black can just play B (or atari at C in some situations). White can't make two eyes.

Problem: (43)
Black almost had it. There's a better move than A.

Problem: (43)

Problem: (43)
Correct

Problem: (43)

Problem: (43)

Problem: (43)
Correct

Problem: (43)

Problem: (43)

Problem: (43)

Problem: (43)

Problem: (43)

Problem: (43)

White's four in a row eyespace is alive because White A and B are miai (that means if Black takes one, White can take the other one).

Problem: (43)

Problem: (43)

Problem: (44)

The shape of White's four stones is called a 'bulky four'. If Black captures White's four stones, White will immediately play at A, and Black won't be able to make two eyes.

If Black does nothing, White can atari at B, making a 'bulky five' shape. If Black then captures, White A still works.

Problem: (44)

Even if White passes...

Problem: (44)

Black can't make two eyes.

Problem: (44)

Black passes. Black's already dead, but for the sake of demonstration...

Problem: (46)

Problem: (46)

Problem: (46)

Black should be captured now, but this White move is a mistake...

Problem: (46)

A and B are miai for Black (if White defends against one, Black plays the other), so Black lives.

Problem: (46)

Problem: (46)

Problem: (47)
Correct

Problem: (46)

Problem: (47)
Correct

Problem: (47)
Correct

This is a mess. Black has a move that settles things in a simple and clean manner.

Next White can cut at A or B, so the position becomes very difficult for Black.

Problem: (48)
Black's missed a great opportunity.
White can even cut here now.

Problem: (52)

Problem: (52)

Next if Black cuts at A, White can atari at B and capture two stones. If Black plays C instead, White can keep fighting at D, or just connect at A. Black had a way to capture the cutting stones instead.

Problem: (52)

Problem: (52)

Problem: (52)

Problem: (52)

Problem: (52)

Problem: (53)

Correct. This is the best shape, because it gives Black the best potential for making eyes later. A and B are miai for Black now. If White tries to play A-C, Black D captures White's stones.

Problem: (53)

White plays on the vital point and Black's group becomes weak. Notice the relationship between A and B - the point the whole group may be in trouble later. at C can only ever become a false eye

Problem: (53)

If the game continues like this, Black doesn't have much room to make eyes, so now.

Problem: (53)

Later on there's still a vital point here...

Problem: (53)

Problem: (53)

Problem: (53)

Problem: (53)

Problem: (53)

Problem: (53)

Problem: (53)

Making this exchange helps White. In addition, Black still has weaknesses at A and B, so Black hasn't developed a good shape and still has to play another move here. In some situations White might choose to play at A or B immediately after Black kicks with the diagonal attachment.

This move is uninspired.
